Creative Yearbooks outlines options for publishing an annual or yearbook in 2014 for high schools, elementary and middle schools or other groups.

(Newswire.net -- January 13, 2014) Huntington Beach, California -- Yearbook committees have learned fashioning a creative yearbook design is a complicated, time-intensive task. Many publishing companies have looming deadlines and complicated processes. As the New Year approaches, schools and groups are concerned about whether or not they are far enough along in the publishing process to complete yearbooks on time. The New Year brings the realization that hard deadlines are approaching with any yearbook publishing company.

Creative Yearbooks is a yearbook publishing company that offers great flexibility and freedom compared with other yearbook publishers. This yearbook publishing company has only one timeline for customers to remember, which is six weeks before the book is needed. The early deadlines of other yearbook publishing companies make it virtually impossible to include memories within the yearbook that happen later in the school year. School yearbook publishers often cannot include that panoramic grade shot that was taken in May, for example. Creative Yearbooks is a yearbook publisher that is able to fit in all the memories from the entire school year. This means that it is not too late to get started with the process of compiling photos and related information for the group needing a yearbook.

New and creative yearbook designs that are easy to use and free from complicated software requirements is an area of expertise for Creative Yearbooks. Creative Yearbooks offers a web-based yearbook program that can be accessed in any browser housing complete yearbook design. This eliminates the need to have access to a specific computer with software loaded. This feature allows for many contributors to conveniently participate in the yearbook creation process.

Creative Yearbooks also offers an online ordering option to every school or group who orders a yearbook. This makes ordering yearbooks a hassle-free process, much easier than ordering by filling out forms and collecting cash.
