Kris Jenner the mother of Khloe Kardashian, the latest celebrity to go through a public breakup has been reported to be on the look out for mid tier law firms in Sydney to consult for advice according to a family friend.

The recent divorce as of last week has been an example of a celebrity marriage gone bad. This trend has been famed throughout the media and documented with many incidents. Consultations with mid tier law firms in Sydney has revealed that whilst Kardashian divorce has been described as a 'tragedy' it is nothing more than the latest Hollywood breakup.

Many experts in law firms in Sydney have described that the pattern is going to continue with many celebrities continue to crack under the public eye and scrutiny and trial by media that has circumvented every facet of their lives.

A rising figure among mid tier law firms Sydney wide, David Laxland believes that with the increasing culture of entitlement from the public, the media is not going to slow down in reporting even the most mundane of tasks.

David believes that among many of his friends working in mid tier law firms in Sydney he has heard of a rumour going around that the top tier law firms are slowly losing business because they are not providing a high enough return on investment for some of their A list clients. There have been reports that some A-listers are turning to mid tier law firms around Sydney to sort out their disputes when they expect a long drawn out case as many mid tier firms will provide a similar service without the gusto or need to perform for the media.

David says, "I would love to handle a case like the Kardashian divorce but the reality is that whilst working in a top tier law firm has it's advantages of handling high profile cases like the Kardashian or Katie Holmes divorce cases but the reality it's more about performing for the media rather than dealing with the facts and coming to a win-win outcome.

"I find many public divorces do wonders for the PR of the involved celebrities. Celebrities aren't taking divorce as seriously as they should because whilst there's large money in limbo, they also get invaluable media coverage and priceless free pr.

"Many of my clients don't need or want the gusto of the media, why pay for something you don't need when many lawyers from mid tier law firms in Sydney are more than capable of handling many legal matters.”
