New Lasik Suite Center

Eye Consultants of Texas offers state-of-the-art facilities for vision care, including LASIK surgery. The services available at the new facility are designed with the comfort and care of the patient and family members in mind.

(Newswire.net – June 10, 2013) Grapevine, Texas -- Eye Consultants of Texas, a Grapevine LASIK center and Royce Labor are pleased to announce the construction of a fully equipped Lasik Suite located in Grapevine, TX. The new facility provides a wide range of patient benefits, including LASIK surgical procedures, as well as ophthalmologic care, cataract removal, implanted contact lenses, lens implants, and conductive keratoplasty procedures. Patients here can receive testing, exams and regular office visits.

The practice was founded by Dr. Phillips Kirk Labor, MD, a Board-certified ophthalmologist with offices in Fort Worth and Grapevine. Dr. Labor has pioneered several innovative procedures and tools in the DFW area in order to provide better patient care. This new facility adds to the accuracy and convenience for patients and families who choose to undergo surgical procedures.

Dr. Labor has been recognized for refractive surgical expertise, Other tools that he has promoted include the ORA technology to measure vision quality during cataract surgery, implantable intraocular lens, and use of the Ziemer FEMTO LDV surgical laser. The procedure is unique in that the doctor can provide a fully customized procedure to the vision correction needs of each patient. The procedure is known as iLASIK. The technology allows for a computerized map of the patient's eye, so that the correction can be precisely accomplished as is required by the specific patient. The overwhelming majority of patients benefit from 20/20 vision following the procedure.

According to the center spokesperson, Royce Labor, "surgery is a big decision, so we expect you to have lots of questions. As one of the most reputable eye surgery practices in Fort Worth and Dallas, we're here to help. In fact, your peace of mind is extremely important to us in providing the best care experience possible. The new center provides full eye care services in an attractive and comfortable setting."
